

MEDIA works towards the competitiveness of the film industry in Europe and is dedicated to the diversity of its audiovisual culture. For the past 25 years, it has been supporting collaborations between national talents to improve the circulation of works and tell shared stories.

The Cannes Film Festival has acknowledged the quality of European filmmaking by bestowing its most prestigious awards upon 42 films supported by MEDIA since 1991.

In total, over €20 million were invested for their development and distribution. Amongst all 42, 31 were co-productions, representing 25 countries.
